

LEXISNEXIS AND WESTLAW: AN OVERVIEW OF TRAINING RESOURCES

LexisNexis

I. 24/7 Lexis Customer Support

1-800-45-LEXIS (1-800-455-3947)

II. Lexis Support Page

<http://support.lexisnexis.com/lawschool/>

This is the main page for Lexis reference and technical support for law students. Here you can see sample searches, read articles on various search techniques, and access the Lexis Knowledge Base.

III. Law School Study Aids

<http://www.lexisnexis.com/lawschool/study/>

Use this page to see already-written outlines for civil procedure, contracts, torts, constitutional law, and other subjects. You can also link to the tables of contents—and, in some cases, the first chapters—of titles from the LexisNexis Understanding Series.

IV. Searchable Directory of Online Sources

<http://w3.nexis.com/sources/>

Lexis includes tens of thousands of information sources, but it doesn't include everything. How can you find out whether Africa Mining News is on Lexis? The directory of online sources will answer that question.

Westlaw

I. 24/7 Westlaw Customer Support

For research help: 1-800-REF-ATTY (1-800-733-2889)

For technical help: 1-800-WESTLAW (1-800-937-8529)

II. Westlaw Support Page

<http://west.thomson.com/westlaw/guides/lawschool.aspx>

Many user guides are available here, including how to find statutes and cases, how to write briefs and law review articles, and how to use KeyCite.

III. Law School Survival Guide

<http://lawschool.westlaw.com>

You can access this using your law school Westlaw password. Click on Survival Guide on the gold range of tabs to choose a resource on legal research, legal writing, or exam and class preparation.
